DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the application filed on 01/23/2004. Claims 1-28 are presented for examination.

Priority

2. Applicant's claim for the benefit of a prior-filed application under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) or under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) is acknowledged.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-28 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior arts of record do not teach nor suggest, either alone or in combination, all the limitations of the independent claims 1, 8, 15 and 22; particularly a method and an apparatus for selectively unmarking load-marked cache lines during transactional execution, comprising: changes made during the transactional execution are not committed to the architectural state of a processor until the transactional execution completes without encountering an interfering data access from another thread,

- when a release instruction during transactional execution of a block of instructions within a program is encountered as disclosed in claims 1 and 8; and

- when a commit-and-start-new-transaction instruction during transactional execution of a block of instructions within a program is encountered as disclosed in claims 15 and 22.

Furthermore, the prior arts of record failed to teach or suggest, either alone or in combination that in response to the release instruction or the commit-and-start-new-transaction instruction, modifying the state of cache lines, which are specially load-marked to indicate they can be released from monitoring, to account for the release instruction being encountered; wherein modifying the specially load-marked cache lines can cause the specially load-marked cache lines to become unmarked. Therefore, independent claims 1, 8, 15 and 22 are allowable.

Claims 2-7, 9-14, 16-21 and 23-28 further limit the allowable independent claims. These claims are therefore allowable for the same reason as set forth supra.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
